Insurance Subrogation

We believe that successful subrogation programs are crucial to the existence of any subrogation department. Because insurance is ever changing, we feel it necessary to constantly keep our staff and our clients updated on any and all changes within the insurance industry and how they will be affected. These changes directly influence what we do and how we do it. When you see the slightest savings, we have done our job efficiently.

Insurance Deductibles and Premiums

Titan provides an inclusive and lucrative way to swiftly recover overdue deductibles and premiums. This collection service is designed to eliminate the need for your resources to be involved with trying to locate and recover overdue premiums. Titan will send out all notices and telephone each account to recover your premium and remit the net cash recoveries to you. This allows your staff to concentrate on your own business, instead of trying to be two things at once. If your business is not collections, you know already know how much time and money can be spent adding this aspect to your business.

Our collectors are specialists in insurance collections. Having insurance experience and by focusing strictly on insurance collections, they have come to understand all of the problems inherent in the collection of premiums, be they due to audits, endorsements, or any other insurance-specific issues.

Rental Car Damage

Titan provides you access to some of the most experienced claim specialists in the industry. Our Rental Car Damage unit is made up of experts in worldwide rental car damage recoveries. We not only specialize in the United States, Canada and Mexico, but in most all countries abroad. Our team is well versed in the insurance codes and state laws as they pertain to renters' and the rental companies they rent from.

Rental Car Accounts Receivables

Getting the money you're owed from the renter is key to the long-term success of every rental location. Yet some rental companies don't pay close enough attention to managing their receivables. This leads to late payments and delinquent accounts, which will impact your cash flow and wreak havoc on your company's liquidity. Many payment delays can be avoided by developing an effective collections plan. The importance of prompt collections can't be underestimated. The longer you let delinquent accounts sit, the less likely it becomes that you will collect on them.

We are professional and thoughtful, but determined to recover what is owed to you. .

Reports

Our reporting system encompasses Status Reports, Acknowledgments, and Special Reports, etc. With our Diversified Services you always have an in-depth awareness relating to the current status of your account. We will specialize our reports to meet your needs.

Consultant Services

We can come into your business and analyze your debt portfolio. Titan has been victorious assisting our client's in locating lost funds throughout their debt portfolios. Titan has found monies that were considered unrecoverable before we stepped in. Titan will help your operation run smoother, have a higher percentage of recovery, and become more profitable.

Legal Referral

Titan has a network of attorneys to represent you and your interests. We also help in providing Attorney Demand Letters that assist our efforts in the collection process. If our client already has legal counsel and chooses to pursue the debt internally, we will assist in whole and provide all information to your counsel.

Pre-Collect

Our established pre-collect letter service consists of sending between one and five collection notices to consumers. Collection notices direct the debtor to send all payments and consumer communications to the client. Accounts that remain unpaid are transferred to Titan for a full service, intensive collection program.
